State agencies to meet July 12 on logistics planning for new Oregon Landslide Risk Reduction Team (OLRRT)

PORTLAND, Ore. – The landslide subcommittee of the Interagency Hazards Mitigation Team will meet in person from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. on Thursday July 12 for the inaugural Oregon Landslide Risk Reduction Team (OLRRT) planning meeting.

OLRRT is an interdisciplinary team of state agencies focused on landslide risk reduction in Oregon. The OLRRT facilitates collaboration between entities with roles in reducing landslide risk in Oregon. The meeting will focus on planning and logistics for future meetings.

The public and media may attend the meeting in person at the Oregon Department of Geology and Mineral Industries (DOGAMI) office at 800 NE Oregon St., Suite 965, Portland, OR.

Please note public comments will not be accepted during this meeting.
