4) Review of Agency’s Draft 2nd-Year Budget and Proposed MLRR Fee Increase:
Dania Ballard, Chief Financial Officer, presented the Agency’s draft 2nd-year budget for the Geological Survey and Services (GS&S) and Mineral Land Regulation & Reclamation (MLRR) programs, and a proposed MLRR Fee increase.

Ballard discussed the Proposed Fiscal Year 2021 (FY21) Budget and Fee Increase memo in the Board packet. She stated the Agency is sharing two different options to be considered, but they do not yet know which scenario will go to the Legislature.

Ballard shared the GS&S budget includes the GS&S program and Agency Administration, which is the General Fund budget, and the MLRR budget is the Other Fund budget.

Ballard discussed the GS&S program spreadsheet titled FY21 General Fund GS&S Budget. She went through the columns for the FY20 Legislatively Adopted Budget (LAB) and the Current Service Level (CSL) Ask for the FY21 Budget, which is what the Agency intends to ask for going forward. She stated there are two minor corrections to the spreadsheet sent out. First, column two of CSL Ask FY21 Budget, the bottom number in green titled “Ending Balance” should be zero ($0) instead of -$15,000. Second, at the top of the column titled “Revenue”, the amount of $2,842,146 should be $2,857,146, so the revenue balances to the total expenditures, leaving an ending balance of zero ($0).

Avy explained the reason for two options is given a one-year budget it provides a range for the Governor’s Office to consider for the second year. He suggested to maximize flexibility a possible motion is to approve up to the limit of Option 2 for both programs, when the time comes for the Board’s action.

Ballard focused on Personal Services, under “Expenditures”. The Personal Services Total, in column two labeled “CSL Ask Budget”, is for $1,824,811. This is a one year increase of approximately 12%, as opposed to the LAB FY20 amount of $1,622,450. Some of the differences in the amount include Agency expected increases of a 3% Cost-of-Living Adjustment (COLA) or pay adjustment, and people who are at the top Step of their salary range will receive a step increase this year, which is a union negotiated item. Additional funding has also been included for the new Business Office positions. Prior practice of budget management was vacant positions typically were budgeted at Step 2 of the range. Due to Pay Equity implementation, agencies no longer have authority to determine starting pay. HR now performs a pay comparison review of new hire experience resulting in beginning pay that may be higher than Step 2.

Ballard discussed the CSL Ask FY21 Budget for Services and Supplies. The Agency is asking for a total of $985,500, which is about a 14% increase over the previous year based on the FY20 LAB being a thin budget. DOGAMI is budgeting expenses that are more realistic based on a normal course of business.

Ballard explained reflection of FY18 actuals were used as a basis instead of last year as the Agency tried to be more realistic in what was spent. The FY21 budget is closer to how the Agency actually operates. Ashford said it looked like the new numbers are about 20% less than FY18. Ballard verified that is correct for Services and Supplies.

Ballard stated Budget Option 2 is basically a mirror of Budget Option 1 but that they have added positions. For the CSL + Positions FY21 Budget, the Personal Services ask is $2,072,494. This is for the GS&S Program Manager, a Principal Executive Manager D (PEM D) top Step level that is 100%
General Fund, and two Supervisors at the NRS 4 top Step level that are 80% General Fund and 20% project work through Federal Funds or Other Funds. Ashford asked if he was interpreting the Personal Services numbers correctly, that the difference is due to hiring a new manager and two supervisors, and the net difference/savings is due to the rotational supervisors going back to project work. Ballard responded that is correct.

Avy explained since there is no current position for the Program Manager vacancy, this would be addressed through the 100% General Fund PEM D. For the two supervisors referenced for 20% project work, one consideration is the value of them to be connected to the project managers and work itself, it also reduces some of the General Fund cost. Avy is concerned that as the Business Office is bolstered to deliver the service needed to be successful with a grant heavy agency, staying with the current situation on the supervisory/management side, the Agency will not be able to perform at the level needed to be a healthy organization. He believes these positions are needed for long-term success, but ultimately it will be the Governor’s Office decision.

Ballard began discussing the FY21 Other Fund MLRR Budget and stated Bob Houston will follow up on this regarding the Proposed Fee Schedule Summary. Budget Option 1 CSL request for Personal Services is $1,726,475, which has one new position for an NRS 4 related to the Grassy Mountain Project. Lewis said the NRS 4 position has been built into the budget and is needed for the program to meet their statutory requirements. The Agency has received the first ever application for a chemical process mine in Oregon and there is a need to build capacity into the program to handle the technical work. The position would be 60% cost recoverable to that project, and could hopefully be hired in with an expertise in metal mining so the other 40% of the position can be designed and leveraged to help the program overall meet some of the other lines of business. Ballard said this position is needed to service the work with Calico.

Ballard said the Personal Services is a significant increase from the previous year’s budget. The difference is due to the NRS 4 position, the COLA of 3%, and addition of the top step. There are several seasoned staff that are being affected by it. Jeremiah asked about the COLA and why it is being done. Lauer explained that it is a union negotiated amount and is non-negotiable.

Ballard explained another significant increase for the MLRR program is an amount of $231,821 being added for indirect costs of 15.51%, which has not been fully recovered in the past from MLRR. This is considered part of the federally negotiated rate. Going forward the amount will be built into the budget so it can be paid to support the Agency as a whole and it will reimburse the General Fund.

Ballard said Services and Supplies listed in the FY20 LAB are $283,988; in the CSL Ask FY21 Budget it is $476,401. Ballard said Option 2 is a mirror of Option 1 but includes an additional NRS 2 position. Lewis said one challenge for the program is meeting the workload for the processing of applications and adequately performing site visits. The position is to help with compliance for the aggregate permitting program. She said this position is in line with their previous ask for two positions from their budget request a year ago.

Houston discussed the DOGAMI-MLRR Proposed Fee Schedule Summary and described how the chart was setup, which is broken down into Application Fee and Annual Renewal Fee, then by program areas (Mining, Exploration Permit, and Oil & Gas/Geothermal). The chart shows the current fee structure under the current actual costs. The column titled “CSL” is actual costs and related to Option 1 for the MLRR Budget, which also includes the Limited Duration NRS 4 position (60% cost recoverable for the consolidated application process). The next column titled “CSL & NRS 2 included for AGG”, is the increase for Option 2. The Annual Renewal Fee is the only thing changing, which reflect the numbers Ballard discussed during the budget presentation and adjusted for the target of 6 months beginning balance at the start of the 25-27 biennium.

Houston explained that the same methodologies and approach were kept in adjusting the fees to reach parity across the application fee structure. An assumption related to the application fee was similar levels of work should pay similar levels of cost. The Annual Renewal Fee is where there are increases and decreases across the programs.

Chair Maffei asked questions about the Oil and Gas/Geothermal renewal fees related to 1st year then 2nd year to closure. Houston confirmed and explained the fees would be the same for the life of the well until the well pad is reclaimed and the well itself is plugged. He stated that some fees had not been changed/adjusted since 1991. During the 2007 fee increase effort, there was an agreed upon approach to phase in the $500 second year to close renewal fee at a following biennium Legislative Session to put the increase to that fee, which was not addressed until this attempt.

Chair Maffei asked what the rationale is for the difference between the renewal fees between Oil and Gas and Geothermal. Houston explained it is being approached in a way that each program pays for itself and aggregate permits do not subsidize the geothermal industry or the oil and gas industry. The challenge around the Oil and Gas and Geothermal programs, compared to the Aggregate program, are the number of active permits that get reviewed annually. The annual renewal fee contributes the most revenue to the programs and is based on how much it actually costs to administer the program. It also ensures the program covers the costs to pay for itself. Maffei summed it up by saying there are less geothermal wells and that program requires an amount of staff time that is a slightly heavier lift per well, so the fee is higher. Houston confirmed her observation. He stated last session when he reached out to the geothermal and oil and gas stakeholders regarding the proposed renewal fee increase, they acknowledged the benefit of the program and realized the program needed to recover its costs. This year’s proposed fee increase is more for geothermal and a decrease for oil and gas so the Agency will need to be engaged with the stakeholders, so they know what the proposed changes are and why.

Jeremiah asked if the Board is being asked to give complete approval of the budget without stakeholder input. Avy said 17 stakeholder groups were met with last year and the budget is based on that input. As for what the Board is being asked to approve, he said that it would be for the up-to amount on Option 2 and the approval for the fee increase proposal to move forward. The actual proposal will be determined later by the Governor’s Office, due to the tight timeline that needs to be met. If the fee increase does not happen, the MLRR program will run out of money next spring so the Agency is looking at moving forward with the fee increase. Jeremiah feels like the Board is being asked to approve moving forward without stakeholder input and is not comfortable with it. Avy said the fee increase was discussed last year but has changed. Ashford asked Jeremiah what she was not comfortable with and she replied both the budget and the fee increase. Ashford asked Avy if the Option 1 and Option 2 budgets were developed with the Governor’s Office. Avy explained they have been working with the Governor’s Office, LFO and DAS, and is based on the actual spend of the Agency. Ashford said he is comfortable with the budget numbers based on Amira Streeter’s presentation and letter, and the fact the Agency has been working in coordination with the Governor’s Office.
Jeremiah disclosed that she is a fee payer and is not sure if she should recuse herself from voting, but she is also still uncomfortable with the fee increase and not having input from stakeholders. Diane Lloyd, with DOJ, said she was not giving Jeremiah legal advice but said it should be based on her ethics and thought she might want to recuse herself and get her own legal advice from the State Ethics Office.

Avy suggested there should be two separate motions, one for the budget and one for the proposed fee increase.

Ballard said she had questions if the Board can split them up and only vote on part of the budget.

Board Action: Chair Maffei moved to approve the proposed DOGAMI budget up to the level of Option 2 for the MLRR program and up to the level of Option 2 for the GS&S program/Agency Administration. Kozlowski seconded. Motion carried.

Board Action: Chair Maffei moved to approve the proposed fee increase for the MLRR program up to the level of Option 2. Ashford seconded. Motion carried.

Jeremiah abstained from both motions, but provided her concerns on the GS&S budget for the Business Office staff and thinks the Board should look at reviewing the need for the positions later after the Agency is caught up.

5) DOGAMI Strategic Plan Update:

Amira Streeter, Governor’s Office Natural Resources Policy Advisor, provided an update on the Governor’s Office Strategic Plan for DOGAMI.

Streeter gave a synopsis of the direction from the Governor’s Office in regard to the letter and recommendation for the Agency, that will be going to the Legislature when finalized.

Streeter reviewed a draft presentation on the Agency’s future. She discussed the history of DOGAMI showing the ups and downs and challenges of the Agency, and its financial background and issues. She said the issue with 2015 did not seem to be internal systems but how the Agency tends to use the General Fund as flexible spending.

She briefly discussed the four considered options for the future of the Agency, saying she plans to list and explain them least desirable to most desirable, including some pros and cons.

- The first option is moving the programs themselves into different natural resource agencies or entities such as a university, which would require a drastic change. There are currently 14 natural resource agencies in the state. Streeter does not feel that it is appropriate to dismantle DOGAMI’s programs and move them under another agency due to going over budget when some of the other agencies have spending issues as well and does not feel it will resolve any issues.

- The second option is moving DOGAMI in its entirety under a natural resource agency or university. This would parallel 52% of other states, but she feels the customer service would be degraded and that is what the Agency is best known for.
• The third option is moving DOGAMI to Salem, but the loss of key staff would not be appetizing.

• The fourth option is keeping DOGAMI intact but ensure there is a culture change and right sizing within the Agency. This is the most promising option. DOGAMI leadership and staff have clearly demonstrated they are able to make changes in a systematic smart way that is on the right track. The preference is to continue this work but also bring stability to the Agency overall.

Streeter stated the budget recommendation preference would be to go for Option 2 for both programs, which includes the proposed fee increase, adding the additional staff needed, and $3 million General Fund. This is the option she is going to fight and advocate for because it would provide a budget that is actually reflective of DOGAMI’s financial needs and also provides the Agency the ability to build a 6-month reserve for MLRR. If the Legislature does not want to go that high, then they would go with Option 2 for GS&S, Option 1 for MLRR, and $2.8 million General Fund.

In addition to the budget recommendation, Streeter briefly discussed her suggestions for DOGAMI’s Strategic Plan, which she believes is an opportunity to re-envision the Agency. She suggested a potential name change for DOGAMI to better reflect the work done by the Agency. The focus areas would be 1) maps, publications and data; 2) geologic mapping; 3) resource extraction and permitting; and 4) natural hazards and risk assessment outreach. She said this is close to what DOGAMI is currently doing. Due to the amount of time it takes to develop a robust, multi-year Strategic Plan, a 6 year plan would be developed for 2022-2028. It will need to be a robust discussion to ensure the Agency is around for the long term. Streeter said the revamping of tsunami work to align with best available science has been one of DOGAMI’s greatest contributions to the State and should continue, even though it has been controversial. A new idea is having one or two additional Board members and having an ex-officio member potentially from the Governor’s Office, to ensure the Agency remains on track, which is reflective of Washington state. Streeter also suggested an analysis of a future move of the Agency to Salem would be helpful, but a move would not take place anytime in the near future. The only other natural resource agency headquartered in Portland is DEQ.

Chair Maffei asked Streeter to tell the Board the next steps in the process, as far as the Governor’s Office recommendation to the Legislature. Streeter said the cover letter and presentation will be turned in to the co-chairs by January 17, 2020. A hearing will be scheduled, and her understanding is there will be an Omnibus Bill the budget recommendation goes into, and another one for the fee increase, which are two different processes. Avy said DOGAMI needs to submit their letter on January 17th as well. The Short Session starts February 3, 2020 for 6 weeks and things will be moving quickly through the process.

Terpening explained the letters get turned in on January 17th. Streeter’s will be in the form of a report and DOGAMI’s in the form of an official budget ask. The budget ask gets put into an Omnibus Bill with all other budget adjustments, which will go to a subcommittee, then to full chambers to be voted on. Terpening said the initial plan is to have, during session in the Natural Resources Subcommittee, a hearing day dedicated to DOGAMI for Streeter to present her report and discussion about the budget recommendation, and then the DOGAMI report and discussion on the MLRR fees. The fees are also a standalone bill separate from the budget. The point is to have one day to discuss all of these interconnected issues and move them forward from there.
Streeter said the optimum primary recommendation would be to have Option 2 for both programs, but an adjustment may be needed. She said she needs to be very clear on why the additional positions are being requested, which is to ensure DOGAMI thrives and not just survives.

Kozlowski said she appreciates Streeter’s close scrutiny and input on DOGAMI.

Ashford thanked Streeter for coming to the meeting.

Chair Maffei thanked Streeter for her scrutiny and support of the Agency. She said if the name is to be changed, it has to be an acronym that spells something. She stated having an ex-officio Governor’s Office member is a great idea and is open to other Board members, which could be challenging in trying to find someone to serve.

Briefing: No Board Action Required.

6) Public Comment:

Chair Maffei asked for public comment.

Written public comment from the League of Women Voters from Peggy Lynch: It was not read into the record due to its length, but is supporting DOGAMI and its budget request, including the new positions and fee increase. Avy said the attachment letter is to show what was supported last year and it is her comments in the email that are more specific to this meeting. Both the email and attachment will be included with the minutes and made public for review.

Avy wanted to acknowledge that Amira Streeter will be staying after this meeting to meet with staff and provide them a direct update. Chair Maffei thanked her and said she thought the staff will really appreciate the communication from the Governor’s Office.

7) Board Adjourn:

At the conclusion of the public comment period, Chair Maffei adjourned the meeting at 2:48 p.m.
