John Richardson, 26 years old, of the town of Cheyenne, has located a mine on land owned by H. E. Brown, five miles west of the town of Cheyenne, in the 4th section of the 4th township, 26th range west of the 2nd line. The mine is located on the southeast corner of the section, and is described as follows:

The mine is located on a hill, 200 feet above the surrounding ground. It is approximately 250 feet long and 50 feet wide. The ore is said to be of high quality, and is expected to yield substantial profits.

The mine is divided into three levels: the lowest level is 50 feet below the surface, the middle level is 100 feet below, and the highest level is 150 feet below. Each level is divided into four sections, and each section is expected to produce 200 tons of ore per year.

The mine is estimated to contain 1,000 tons of ore, and is expected to yield a profit of $10,000 per year. The mine is protected by a fence and a watchman, and is kept in good condition at all times.

Notice: That I have this day located my claim of 160 acres on this ledge of quantity more than 1 mile in the direction of the mound and a distance of 1 mile from the mound, in the State of Oregon. I have thus located my claim on the ledge in a position that is a shelter from the wind and hills of the West. I claim this ledge in a position between two small tributaries of East Fork of Pine Creek on west side of main stream and claim 900 on each side with all rights appurtenant thereto. This ledge is claimed for the purpose of containing timber and mineral resources thereon. I claim the minute positions mentioned in this claim. I want to keep these mineral resources on the ground.

The following is a summary of a survey made by a certain agent in the office of the U.S. General Land Office in 1889, for the purpose of determining the boundaries of certain lands claimed under the Act of Congress of July 21, 1882, for the settlement of claims for mining purposes.

The claim in question was filed by J. A. Smith, and is located on the south side of the river, about 1 mile west of the point where the river enters the town of Smithville. The claim is bounded on the north by a line running due north from a point 1 mile east of the mouth of the river, and on the south by a line running due south from the same point. The area of the claim is about 10 acres. The claim is situated on a bench of land, about 30 feet above the level of the river, and is bounded on the east by a line running due east from a point 1 mile west of the mouth of the river, and on the west by a line running due west from the same point.

The boundary line of the claim is marked by a stone monument at each corner, and is clearly visible from the river. The claim is situated on a bench of land, about 30 feet above the level of the river, and is bounded on the east by a line running due east from a point 1 mile west of the mouth of the river, and on the west by a line running due west from the same point.

The claim is situated on a bench of land, about 30 feet above the level of the river, and is bounded on the east by a line running due east from a point 1 mile west of the mouth of the river, and on the west by a line running due west from the same point.

The claim is situated on a bench of land, about 30 feet above the level of the river, and is bounded on the east by a line running due east from a point 1 mile west of the mouth of the river, and on the west by a line running due west from the same point.
Commencing as this prospect shows, and extending northward for five to a stake measured I 2 L.M. Thence south, eastward 1500 feet to a stake measured I 2 L.M. Thence south, westward 2000 feet to a stake measured I 2 L.M. Thence north, westward 1500 feet to a stake measured I 2 L.M. Thence north, north west 1500 feet to a stake measured I 2 L.M. Thence in a north easterly direction 100 feet in a north easterly direction to place of beginning and we intend to hold and respect such claim as provided by the laws and customs and rules of mines and the mining statutes of the United States.
