The Town of Long Creek is in a structural basin on the Columbia River Basin.

The town developed on alluvium which filled the valley and now being eroded away by the downstream action of Long Creek.

The map shows the extent of alluvium exposure. Some areas are shown to be covered by alluvium, but the extent is not known.

Geology by L.F. Hartje 1932.