

GRANDE RONDE MINES (Gold)

Camp Carson District

(Including Aurelia and Standard Properties)

Owner: Grande Ronde Mines, Inc., C. H. D. Douglas, Pres., Yakima, Washington.

Location: Sec. 26, T. 6 S., R. 36 E., in the southern part of Union county. The property is reached by the way of the Anthony Lakes road which leaves U. S. Highway 30 at North Powder.

Geology: No definite information is available. It is reported that a crosscut tunnel has been driven to the Standard vein which is 22 feet wide on the surface and can be traced for about 2,000 feet by means of surface cuts. It is said that there has been considerable development work done in the past from which some high-grade ore was produced.

Pg 111-14 A

Informant: Current news items.

Union County

Grande Ronde Mining Company—

Homer Douglas, manager of the Grande Ronde Mining Company, developing the Aurelia mine on the headwaters of the Grand Ronde river has resumed work after being closed during the winter months. The company is driving a tunnel to open ore below a point where high grade shipping ore was produced in former operations. The values are principally in silver.

Grande Ronde Mines, Inc.,—C. H. D. Douglas, president and general manager of this company, has been at the property during the summer carrying on development work. The company owns the Aurelia and Standard mines, located near the head of the Grande Ronde river in Union county, 30 miles northwest of Baker, Oregon, the mine address. L. C. Hoppell of Selah, Washington, is secretary of the company.

The Grande Ronde Mines, Inc., is reported to be planning the purchase and installation of new equipment at its property in the Grande Ronde district of Union County 30 miles northwest of Baker, Oregon. At the recent stockholders' meeting C. H. Douglass of Yakima, Washington, was re-elected president and J. N. Hanning of Yakima was elected vice-president. Tom Fleming, Yakima, was elected secretary-treasurer. L. C. Hoppel of Selah is a director.